Management Discussion on Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Arrow Canadian Advantage Alternative Class is to achieve superior capital appreciation over both short and long-term horizons primarily through the selection and management of a concentrated group of long and short positions in Canadian equity securities and equity derivative securities.

The Fund will use leverage. The leverage will be created through the use of cash borrowings, short sales and derivative contracts. The fund's leverage shall not exceed the limits on the use of leverage described in the "Investment Strategies" section in the simplified prospectus or as otherwise permitted under applicable securities legislation.

To achieve its investment objective, the Fund invests predominantly in large and mid-capitalization companies, but does not specialize in any one industry. The Fund may also invest in bonds and other debt instruments if warranted by financial conditions. The Fund may also invest in options, including put options or call options either in respect of a specific security or in respect of a stock exchange index as a means to reduce volatility. The Fund may also invest in foreign securities, but generally no more than 49% of the Fund's assets and it may invest in derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes.

The Fund is an alternative mutual fund whereby the specific strategies that differentiate this Fund from conventional mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes, increased ability to sell securities short, and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes.

Investment Risk

The risks of investing in the Fund remain as stated in the Fund's simplified prospectus. There were no material changes to the Fund over the period that affected the overall level of risk.

The Fund is suitable for investors who seek medium to long-term growth through a diversified portfolio of equity and fixed income securities. To invest in this Fund, investors should be able to accept a medium degree of risk.

Leverage

Leverage occurs when the Fund borrows money or securities, or uses derivatives, to generate investment exposure to underlying assets that is greater than the amount invested. It is an investment technique that can magnify gains and losses. Leverage may increase volatility, may impair the Fund's liquidity and may cause the Fund to liquidate positions at unfavorable times. The Fund's leverage is measured by calculating its aggregate gross exposure through the sum of the following: (i) the market value of short holdings; (ii) the amount of cash borrowed for investment purposes; and (iii) the notional value of the Fund's specified derivatives positions, excluding any specified derivatives used for hedging purposes. The maximum aggregate gross exposure is 300% of the Fund's NAV.

The Fund may borrow cash up to a maximum of 50% of its NAV and may sell securities short, whereby the aggregate market value of securities sold short will be limited to 100% of its NAV. The combined use of short-selling and cash borrowing by the Fund is subject to an overall limit of 100% of its NAV.

During the year from January 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020, the Fund's aggregate amount of leverage ranged from 0.0% to 58.8% (0% to 38.2% in 2019) of the Fund's NAV during such period of time.

Results of Operations

The net asset value ("NAV") of the Fund increased from $77.6 million to $90.7 million from December 31, 2019 to December 31, 2020. The Fund had net sales of $5.7 million for the year. The Fund paid $10.7 million distribution while the portfolio's performance increased assets by $18.1 million. For the year ended December 31, 2020, Series F Shares of the Fund delivered a gain of 25.4% (gain of 16.3% in the year ended December 31, 2019) while the Canadian benchmark, the S&P/TSX Total Return Index, posted a gain of 5.6% (gain of 22.9% in the year ended December 31, 2019) for the same year. Please refer to the "Past Performance" section for the performance of the other Series. The performance of the other Series offered by the Fund differs from Series F largely because of varying levels of expenses charged to each series, as explained in the Management Fees section.

2020 was without doubt the most challenging year we have ever had to navigate. Despite the unfamiliarity with repercussions of a pandemic, the correct portfolio response was not dissimilar to a response appropriate for any downturn - involving raising cash as well as selling and shorting stocks of companies likely to suffer the most severe consequences. The experience of having managed through a variety of crises and recessions came in handy, however the speed of the sell-off left little time for planning a comprehensive strategy. The timely monetary and fiscal response by authorities around the globe caused markets to begin rallying as quickly as they declined. The outcome was an often puzzling decoupling of market performance from economic reality. Markets were roaring higher by the time the grim results of the economic dislocation were reported.

Historically, significant innovations are borne out of crises. So Covid-19 brought many innovations as digitization became imperative for companies to succeed during the ensuing lockdowns. Lack of pandemic experience meant investors had to rely on observations, earnings and guidance announcements to pick winners. A whole new group designated as 'WFH companies' embarked on an unprecedented outperformance, led by the likes of ZOOM. The successful portfolios were able to jump on 'winners of the pandemic' early. We shifted out of Canadian stocks to seek better opportunities in US technology companies. Having said that, our long-standing large position in Shopify was a meaningful contributor to the portfolio's outperformance. Just as our comfort level with innovators grew, the high efficacy announcements of the new vaccines had investors head for the cyclical value stocks which had better leverage to the re-opening economies. Thus, the challenge last year did not lie so much in positioning for each scenario, but rather in figuring out which scenario would take hold next. It often felt as if several years' worth of events were compressed into a single year.

The November U.S. presidential election added yet another layer of uncertainty, as the outcome would determine which sectors became beneficiaries. We did lean toward a Democrat win by beefing up several 'green' positions. The cyclicals never looked back after the election as they rallied into yearend, driven by a larger stimulus expected from the new Democrat regime. Many of the doom prognostications did not materialize. In hindsight, every correction presented a buying opportunity, and having a cash reserve just weighed on portfolio returns. A second wave was always predicted to cause markets to retreat; yet additional stimulus expectations are driving markets to all-time highs, even as infections and deaths are reaching record levels.

Recent Developments

(BASED ON INFORMATION AS AT FEBRUARY 10, 2021)

Valuation of U.S. equities is stretched on any measure, yet current wisdom has excess liquidity driving markets higher for at least the first half of 2021. Thus, the current scenario considers a possible market peak just as global economy begins to return to normalcy and sustained GDP growth. Advice from most strategists is to stay invested until there are more convincing signs of a market top. Given November's strength, we saw some much-needed consolidation in pockets of the market, although overall, we continued to see stability. Looking below the hood however, risk tolerance returned, with small caps, special acquisition corps and Cannabis as areas that outperformed. Going into 2021, we are constructive, and positioned for a continued NORMALIZATION of the economy, and our holdings reflect this. High level, this entails a greater weighting to small caps, value, and cyclicals. We continue to find new opportunities with cheap optionality.

Other Developments

Amendments to National Instrument 81-102 - Investment Funds that became effective January 3, 2019 ("Alternative Mutual Fund Amendments") established alternative mutual funds and repealed large sections of National Instrument 81-104 Commodity Pools. With the Alternative Mutual Fund Amendments, the Fund became an alternative mutual fund which permits the Fund to use strategies generally prohibited to conventional mutual funds, such as the ability to invest more than 10% of its NAV in securities of a single issuer, the ability to invest in physical commodities or specified derivatives, to borrow cash, to short sell beyond the limits prescribed for conventional mutual funds and to generally employ leverage. Effective May 21, 2019, the fund was renamed to Arrow Canadian Advantage Alternative Class.

1. The net assets per share shown are referenced to net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares determined in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) and are derived from the Fund’s financial statements. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per share.
2. Distributions, if applicable, were reinvested in additional shares of the Fund at the discretion of the underlying shareholders.
3. The Manager may absorb certain expenses or waive certain fees otherwise payable by the Fund. The amount of expenses absorbed or waived (if applicable) is determined annually at the discretion of the Manager and the Manager can terminate the absorption or waiver at any time.
4. Management expense ratio (“MER”) is calculated as total expenses net of waived fees, if applicable, and excludes certain taxes, commissions and other fund transaction costs for the stated year expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the stated year. The management expense ratio is calculated in accordance with Part 15 of NI 81-106. Management expense ratio before performance fee is the MER before any performance fees, if applicable, for the stated year.
5. Management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions is the MER inclusive of performance fees before any waivers or absorptions are deducted.
6. The Fund’s portfolio turnover rate can indicate how actively the investment advisor manages the portfolio of investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of its securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the fund’s portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover ratio for the years ended 2019, 2018, 2017 and 2016 were calculated based on the average net portfolio of the Fund. The ratios for these years have been restated to be based on average gross portfolio of the Fund.
7. The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the period.
8. Ratios and supplemental data, where applicable, are computed using the NAV of the Fund.
9. The management expense ratio before performance fees, management expense ratio, management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions and trading expense ratio for the years ended 2016 have been restated to reflect the reclassification of certain custodial transaction costs related to the purchase and sale of securities.
10. The trading expense ratio before interest and borrowing expenses represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs excluding interest expenses and borrowing expenses expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the period.

Past Performance

The performance information shown below assumes that all distributions, if any, made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional shares of the Fund. If you hold the Fund outside a registered plan, you will be taxed on distributions. Distributions of income the Fund earns and capital gains it realizes are taxable in the year received whether received in cash or reinvested in additional shares. No adjustment for potential tax consequences to an investor has been made to the performance information.

The indicated rates of return are historical annual compounded total returns including changes in share value and do not take into account sale, redemption, distribution or other optional charges, that, if applicable, would have reduced returns or performance. An investment in the Fund is not guaranteed. Its value changes frequently and how the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Year-By-Year Returns

The bar chart below illustrates the Fund's annual performance for each of the year(s) shown, and indicates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year.
