Management Discussion on Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Fund is to generate meaningful, risk-adjusted, absolute returns through exposure to global securities over the medium to long term, while preserving capital and mitigating risk.

The Fund will use leverage. The leverage will be created through the use of cash borrowings, short sales and derivative contracts. The fund's leverage shall not exceed the limits on the use of leverage described in the "Investment Strategies" section in the simplified prospectus or as otherwise permitted under applicable securities legislation.

To achieve its investment objective, the Fund will invest and trade primarily in a diversified portfolio of four global asset classes: equities, fixed income securities, commodities and currencies. Exposure to these asset classes may be obtained directly or indirectly by investing in underlying funds that invest such securities.

The Fund is an alternative mutual fund whereby the specific strategies that differentiate this Fund from conventional mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes, increased ability to sell securities short, and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes.

Investment Risk

The risks of investing in the Fund remain as stated in the Fund's simplified prospectus. There were no material changes to the Fund over the period that affected the overall level of risk.

This Fund is suitable for investors who seek medium to long term growth through a diversified portfolio of equity and fixed income securities. To invest in this Fund, investors should be able to accept a medium degree of risk.

Leverage

Leverage occurs when the Fund borrows money or securities, or uses derivatives, to generate investment exposure to underlying assets that is greater than the amount invested. It is an investment technique that can magnify gains and losses. Leverage may increase volatility, may impair the Fund's liquidity and may cause the Fund to liquidate positions at unfavorable times. The Fund's leverage is measured by calculating its aggregate gross exposure through the sum of the following: (i) the market value of short holdings; (ii) the amount of cash borrowed for investment purposes; and (iii) the notional value of the Fund's specified derivatives positions, excluding any specified derivatives used for hedging purposes. The maximum aggregate gross exposure is 300% of the Fund's NAV.

The Fund may borrow cash up to a maximum of 50% of its NAV and may sell securities short, whereby the aggregate market value of securities sold short will be limited to 100% of its NAV. The combined use of short-selling and cash borrowing by the Fund is subject to an overall limit of 100% of its NAV.

During the period from January 1, 2020 to June 30, 2020, the Fund's aggregate amount of leverage ranged from 0.0% to 89.5% of the Fund's NAV during such period of time.

Results of Operations

The net asset value ("NAV") of the Fund increased from $78.7 million to $98.0 million from December 31, 2019 to June 30, 2020. The Fund had net sales of $16.4 million for the period. The Fund paid no distributions while the portfolio's performance increased assets by $2.9 million. For the period ended June 30, 2020, Series F Shares of the Fund posted a gain of 3.5% (loss of 1.0% in the period ended June 30, 2019) while its benchmark, the MSCI World NR Index (USD) posted a loss of 5.8% (gain of 17.0% in the period ended June 30, 2019) over the same period. Please refer to the "Past Performance" section for performance information of the other series. The performance of the other series of the Fund differs from Series F Shares due largely to a varying level of expenses charged to each series, as explained in the Management Fees section.

Coming into 2020, we were very leery of equities and risky assets – our models had U.S. growth decelerating for 3 quarters straight and inflation beginning to perk up. Therefore, our asset allocation had the Fund's portfolio very defensively positioned when the COVID-19 crisis began to expand beyond China's borders. The demand side of the global economy effectively collapsed with the resulting “lockdowns” of many economies, leading our models (and everyone’s models) to signal a collapse in economic growth. At the same time COVID-19 was disrupting demand and supply chains. Inflation expectations have collapsed and real interest rates have gone into deep negative territory. The markets for commodities, interest rates, equities, currencies became extremely volatile – and that is an understatement.

Central banks and governments did not sit on their hands as they did in 2008 – they acted swiftly and decisively. Central banks worldwide implemented the largest monetary stimulus in recorded history and the fiscal response has also been unprecedented. Global equity and credit markets recovered quickly in April and May driven by the confidence in the stimulus packages regardless of the fall in GDP, a decrease of 34.5% in Q2 for the U.S., and the rapid rise in unemployment. Our models indicate that we will begin to see a material pick-up in inflation moving into the 2nd half of 2020.

Recent Developments

(BASED ON INFORMATION AS AT AUGUST 10, 2020)

Currency volatility has increased throughout the second quarter and all eyes are focused on the U.S. dollar. Given our global models on growth and inflation we continue to see the dollar coming under pressure as other developed countries emerge from COVID-19 lockdowns better than the U.S.

Rates continue to hold near the lows which is not surprising given the bleak global growth prospects. We continue to keep our eyes open for signs of inflation and improved growth prospects which will have big implications for the yield curve – particularly the long end.

On the commodity front, our favorite position remains gold. We expect real yields to remain in negative territory for some time given the actions of the Federal Reserve and the outlook for low global growth. Oil will likely remain under pressure until further supply is shut in globally.

In our long/short equity portfolio, we remain focused on high quality business across all sectors. These are companies with low levels of debt, decent growth prospects (pre and post COVID-19) and reasonable dividends. We are somewhat nervous that everyone is doing the same thing i.e. upgrading their portfolios, such that the S&P 500 and Nasdaq markets are likely stretched coming into the 2nd half of the year.

Our view, like others, is that the pandemic has accelerated trends that were previously in place. If this proves correct, then we are sure the investment implications will be profound and we will look to take advantage of the changes.

1. The net assets per share shown are referenced to net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares determined in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") and are derived from the Fund's financial statements. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per share.
2. Distributions, if applicable, were reinvested in additional shares of the Fund at the discretion of the underlying shareholders.
3. The Manager may absorb certain expenses or waive certain fees otherwise payable by the Fund. The amount of expenses absorbed or waived (if applicable) is determined annually at the discretion of the Manager and the Manager can terminate the absorption or waiver at any time.
4. Management expense ratio ("MER") is calculated as total expenses net of waived fees, if applicable, and excludes certain taxes, commissions and other fund transaction costs for the stated year expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the stated year. The management expense ratio is calculated in accordance with Part 15 of NI 81-106. Management expense ratio before performance fee is the MER before any performance fees, if applicable, for the stated year.
5. Management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions is the MER inclusive of performance fees before any waivers or absorptions are deducted.
6. The Fund's portfolio turnover rate can indicate how actively the investment advisor manages the portfolio of investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of its securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.
7. The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the period.
8. Ratios and supplemental data, where applicable, are computed using the NAV of the Fund.

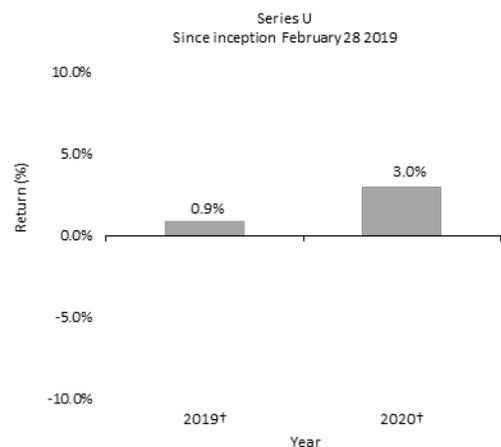

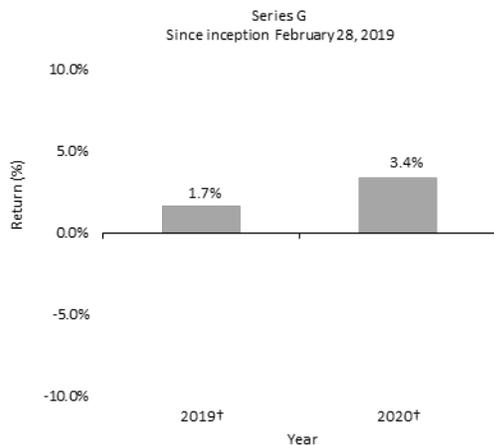

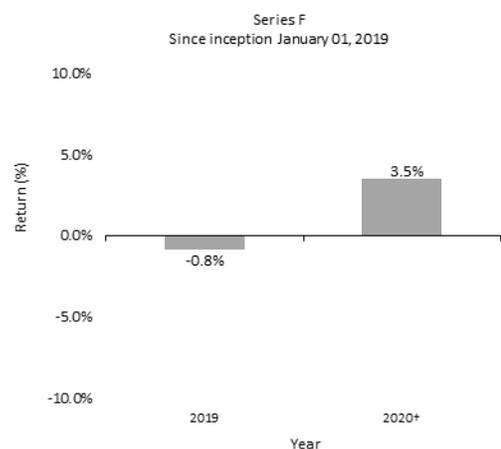

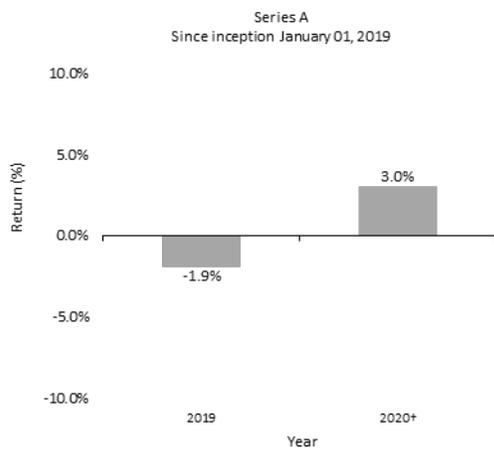

Past Performance

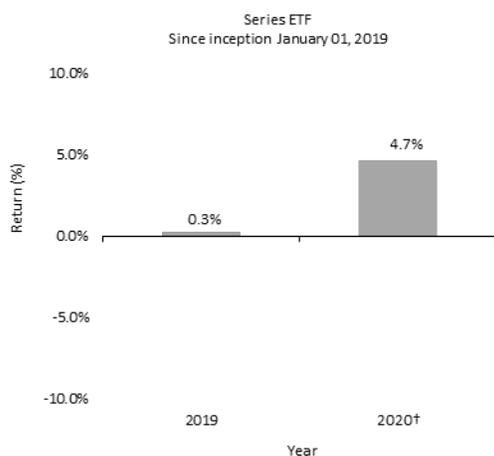

The performance information shown below assumes that all distributions, if any, made by the Fund in the year shown were reinvested in additional shares of the Fund. If you hold the Fund outside a registered plan, you will be taxed on distributions. Distributions of income the Fund earns and capital gains it realizes are taxable in the year received whether received in cash or reinvested in additional shares. No adjustment for potential tax consequences to an investor has been made to the performance information.

The indicated rates of return are historical annual compounded total returns including changes in unit value and do not take into account sale, redemption, distribution or other optional charges, that, if applicable, would have reduced returns or performance. An investment in the Fund is not guaranteed. Its value changes frequently and how the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Year-By-Year Returns

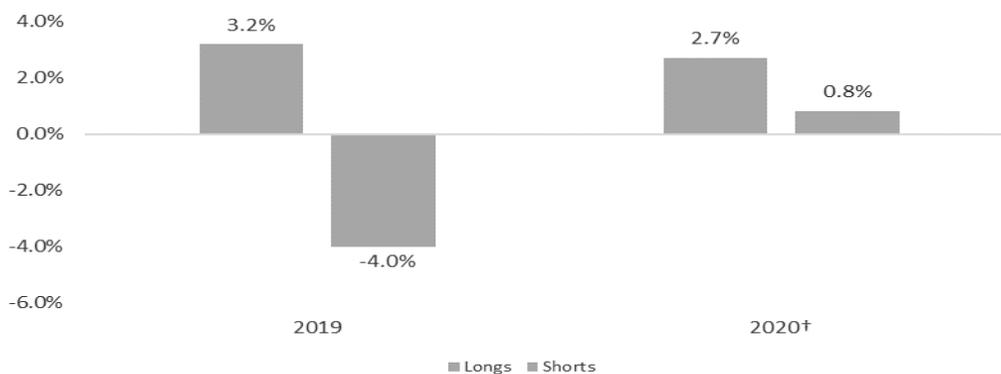

The bar chart below illustrates the Fund's performance for the periods shown. It shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year (or since inception) would have grown or decreased.
