Management Discussion on Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve long term growth and preservation of capital. The Fund may invest up to all of its assets in a diversified mix of other mutual funds (in order to gain indirect exposure to securities that the Fund would otherwise directly invest in), and may also invest in common shares, preferred shares, treasury bills, short-term notes, debentures, and bonds. The Fund invests primarily in Canadian securities.

To achieve the investment objective, the Manager utilizes the following allocation guidelines: 30-90% equity securities, 10-50% fixed income securities and 0-50% money market instruments. Fixed income securities may include investment grade, non-investment grade and distressed fixed income securities, issued by Canadian or non-Canadian corporations, trusts and international agencies and governments. The Fund is also permitted to invest in convertible bonds and debentures, loans, preferred shares, exchange traded funds and equities. The Fund may also hold cash. To achieve these target ranges, the Fund may invest in either individual securities or the Manager may invest up to 100% of the assets of the Fund in underlying funds.

The Fund may invest in foreign securities to an extent that will vary from time to time but is not typically expected to exceed 49% of its assets at the time that foreign securities are purchased, however, as the Fund intends to invest certain of its assets in securities of other investment funds that may themselves invest in foreign securities, the actual exposure of the Fund to investments in foreign securities may exceed this amount. The Fund may enter into securities lending, repurchase and reverse repurchase transactions to generate additional income or as a short-term cash management tool.

Investment Risk

The risk rating of the Fund changed from Medium to Low-to-Medium. Please see the "Recent Developments" section below for more information.

This Fund is suitable for investors who are able to accept a low-to-medium degree of risk and are prepared to invest for medium to long years of time.

Results of Operations

For the year ended December 31, 2017, Series F units of the Fund posted a gain of 15.1% (gain of 10.7% in 2016) while its benchmark (80% S&P/TSX, 20% FTSE/TMX Canada Universe Bond Index) gained 7.8% over the same year (gain of 17.0% in 2016). Please refer to the "Past Performance" section for performance information of the other series. The performance of the other series of the Fund differs from Series F units due largely to a varying level of expenses charged to each series, as explained in the Management Fees section.

The Fund is very active in terms of its positioning and adapts to market conditions in order to try and obtain the best risk reward trade off for our unit holders. This is done through a top down and bottom up process.

The top down incorporates our views on the political economy in Canada, the U.S. and elsewhere along with valuation and momentum in the four principal asset classes that we invest in – namely: cash, foreign exchange, government/corporate bonds and equities (Canada, U.S. and foreign). Our process generated excess returns by identifying correctly to be overweight in stocks versus bonds, have only small cash balances and to be almost entirely in Canadian dollars.

In 2018, we expect that the asset allocation will shift primarily in the second half of the year. While we are not forecasters per se, we are carefully watching measures of inflation in the U.S. signal that an upturn may be at hand. If so, we would expect the yield curve to steepen ("bear steepener") that would hurt government bond prices and if persistent, equity prices as well. One could also add "quantitative tightening" (i.e. a reversal of the QE policies post 2008) as bond bearish as well. In this scenario cash, and in particular U.S. dollars, will do best. Certain equities would do better than most (largely value driven sectors like energy and financials) but generally we would have a lower allocation to stocks and of course government bonds would fare the worst.

In the bottom up process, we focus on industries and the drivers of their returns. Within our equity allocation, we look at the eleven principal sub groups in the Fund: financials, industrials, technology, utilities, consumer staples, consumer discretionary, healthcare, materials, real estate, telecommunications and energy. Our job is to select the best sectors to be in and rotate between them when market conditions dictate. We can use both sector ETF's and individual equities to gain exposure. We tend to have higher weights in the U.S. when sectors such as technology and healthcare appear to be the most attractive. We ended 2017 with the highest allocations to Basic Materials, Energy and Financials.

Finally, each sector has its own dynamic mix of macro, policy and idiosyncratic factors. We have a very strong stock selection team here at Arrow and we take full advantage of that opportunity. Within each sector there are often a good number of sub sectors – for example, in consumer discretionary we made solid returns in the gaming sector (LVS/MLCO); in industrials we made solid gains in airlines (AC/WJA/ DAL); in financials we did well in U.S. banks (BAC/JPM); in asset managers (BEN/IVZ/IGM/AGF.b) and finally in materials we did extremely well in lithium shares (ALB/SQM/LAC).

In each area of our portfolio last year we provided added value. Clearly we are not going to always be able to get it right but we will stick to our process. As we noted earlier, we expect this year to be more challenging but also believe this is where we can add more value. Similar to 2015 when equity markets were volatile, we hope to do equally well if these conditions return in 2018.

We are quite confident in how the Fund is presently invested and with the tools we have at our disposal to make tactical shifts quickly based upon changing market conditions. We will strive to continue to outperform our benchmark with solid security selection and nimble tactical asset allocation which we believe will be a significant advantage versus traditional balanced funds.

Recent Developments

Effective February 28 2017, after receiving unitholder and regulatory approval, Exemplar U.S. High Yield Fund (the “Terminating Fund”) merged into Exemplar Growth and Income Fund (the “Continuing Fund”). Unitholders of the Terminating Fund received units of the Continuing Fund in exchange for their units of the Terminating Fund on a tax-deferred basis.

On June 29, 2017, the risk rating of the Fund changed from Medium to Low-to-Medium. This change is based on the new methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administration to determine risk level of mutual funds. Arrow reviews the risk rating for the Fund at a minimum on an annual basis, as well as when there is a material change to the Fund. These changes are the result of an annual review and are not a result of any changes to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

*Ratios have been annualized.

1. The net assets per unit shown are referenced to net assets attributable to holders of redeemable units determined in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") and are derived from the Fund's financial statements. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per unit.
2. Distributions, if any, were reinvested in additional units of the Fund at the discretion of the underlying unitholders.
3. Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding certain taxes, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
4. The Manager has absorbed certain expenses or waived certain fees otherwise payable by the Fund. The amount of expenses absorbed or waived is determined annually at the discretion of the Manager and the Manager can terminate the absorption or waiver at any time.
5. The Fund's portfolio turnover rate can indicate how actively the investment advisor manages the portfolio of investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of its securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.
6. The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
7. Ratios and supplemental data, where applicable, are computed using the net asset value of the Fund.
8. The management expense ratio, management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions and trading expense ratio for the years ended 2016 and 2015 have been restated to reflect the reclassification of certain custodial transaction costs related to the purchase and sale of securities.

Past Performance

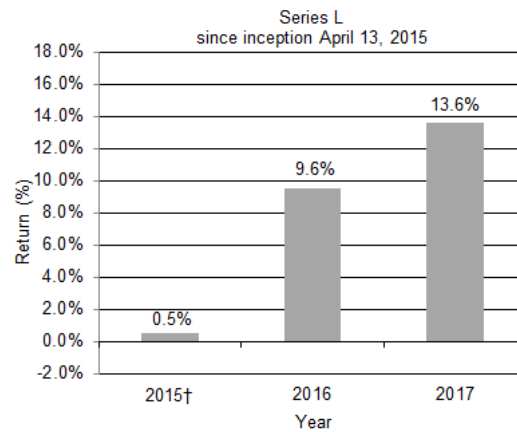

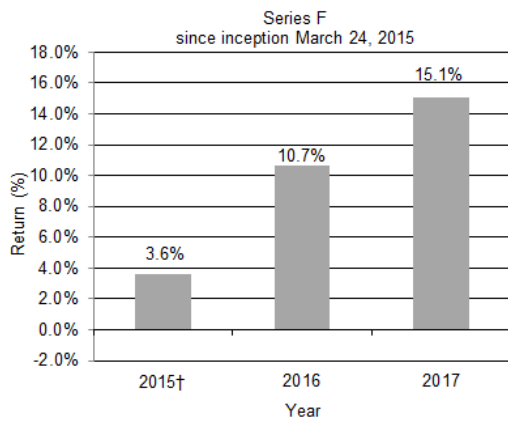

The performance information shown below assumes that all distributions, if any, made by the Fund in the period shown were reinvested in additional units of the Fund. If you hold the Fund outside a registered plan, you will be taxed on distributions. Distributions of income the Fund earns and capital gains it realizes are taxable in the year received whether received in cash or reinvested in additional units. No adjustment for potential tax consequences to an investor has been made to the performance information.

The indicated rates of return are historical annual compounded total returns including changes in unit value and do not take into account sale, redemption, distribution or other optional charges, that, if applicable, would have reduced returns or performance. An investment in the Fund is not guaranteed. Its value changes frequently and how the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Year-By-Year Returns

The bar chart below illustrates the Fund's performance for the years shown. It shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year (or since inception) would have grown or decreased.
