Before you invest in any fund, consider how the fund would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

This mutual fund is an alternative mutual fund. It has the ability to invest in asset classes or use investment strategies that are not permitted for conventional mutual funds. The specific strategies that differentiate this fund from conventional mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes; increased ability to sell securities short; and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes. While these strategies will be used in accordance with the fund's investment objectives and strategies, during certain market conditions they may accelerate the pace at which your investment decreases in value.

This Fund has obtained exemptive relief to permit it to utilize market-neutral investment strategies pursuant to which the Fund may engage in the short selling of securities with a market value of up to a maximum of 100% of the net asset value of the Fund (subject to a combined limit on short selling and cash borrowing of 100% of its net asset value). This short selling limit is greater than the limits permitted under applicable securities legislation for conventional mutual funds as well as alternative mutual funds.

WHAT DOES THE FUND INVEST IN?

The investment objective of Arrow Income Alternative Fund is to maximize total returns for unitholders through income and capital appreciation by investing primarily in income generating securities while minimizing volatility of returns through shorting and other hedging strategies.

The fund will use leverage. The leverage will be created through the use of cash borrowings, short sales and derivative contracts. The fund's aggregate exposure is calculated as the sum of the following, and must not exceed 300% of its net asset value: (i) the aggregate market value of the fund's outstanding indebtedness under any borrowing arrangements; (ii) the aggregate market value of all securities sold short; and (iii) the aggregate notional amount of the fund's specified derivatives positions, minus the aggregate notional amount of the specified derivative positions that are hedging transactions.

HOW RISKY IS IT?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

RISK RATING

Arrow has rated the volatility of this fund as low to medium.

This is a new fund and as such the risk rating is an estimate only by Arrow Capital Management Inc. Generally, the rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see "What are the Risks of Investing in the Fund?" section in the fund's simplified prospectus.
